Shirley Temple didn't have a family background in show business but she enjoyed singing, dancing and acting from a very early age. (1) _____ She soon had her first role in a movie, and within a couple of years she had become a household name. She went on to become one of Hollywood's biggest stars during the 1930s.

Unfortunately, her success didn't last. (2) _____ She became a lot less appealing to the public, and the two films she made in 1940 failed at the box office. Her parents felt that trying to cling on to Hollywood fame would be a mistake, so they decided it was time for a change. Shirley was taken away from Hollywood by her parents, and put into full-time education, where she enjoyed a happy five years.

The course of her life might have been very different, however. In 1939, MGM offered Shirley the role of Dorothy in The Wizard of Oz. Instead, Shirley accepted an alternative offer from her own studio, who were also keen to cast her in a leading role again. (3) _____ The Wizard of Oz was a huge hit and made Judy Garland a star. Shirley's film was far less successful and it was the beginning of the end for her.

After her film career finished, Shirley became interested in politics and good causes. She was a Republican and tried to win election for Congress in 1967. (4) _____ In 1969, she became an ambassador to the United Nations. In 1974 she became US ambassador to Ghana and later she was also the US ambassador to Czechoslovakia. She also used her fame to promote causes that were important to her. In 1972, she found that she had breast cancer. At that time, many women were reluctant to talk about the illness. This was why so many people died of it. By the time they went to see a doctor, it was often too late.

- A Although she was defeated, she soon found another, even more important, role to play.
- B Shirley didn't retire completely from show business and, several times, appeared to be about to make a comeback.
- C However, Shirley realised that it would be more beneficial to share her problem with others than to keep it to herself.
- D As she grew into a teenager, her charm faded. Even her blond hair turned brown.
- E This turned out to be the wrong decision.
- F It was while she was at a dancing class, at the age of three, that she was spotted by a Hollywood casting director.
